Golf Club Delegates Ask Consideration In Location of Town Well

At the regular meeting of the Council of the Town of Didsbury held on Monday, April 7, Mayor Lynch-Staunton presided and all Councillors were present except E. Klunk and S. J. Gilson.

A delegation from the Didsbury Golf Club was present and asked that when the new well is drilled for the town water supply, consideration be given to its location with the suggestion that the well be drilled 500 feet south of the third hole. Council decided to meet with the wishes of the delegation.

Two applications for building lots were made, one to Bill Reinhardt east of the A. Gole residence, and the other from Charles Sprengman, for a lot west of R. McArthur's residence.

An order was authorized for 250 feet of 1 1/2 inch iron pipe, two spray nozzles and a sump connection for the fire department.

In view of the fact that Council could get no satisfaction from the C.P.R. regarding safety measures at the railway crossings in town, the Council decided to place two new scotch-lite signs at the crossing opposite Law's Drug Store corner.

Bags 43 Coyotes This Winter With Hounds

According to a news story in last Wednesday's Calgary Albertan, Bob Fulkert of Didsbury with five Russian wolf hounds, owned in partnership with Cliff Tobbs of Airdrie, has killed 43 coyotes in the past three months in an area five miles around his farm.

During the cold weather the coyote carcasses were piled up like cord wood, and later burned as a sanitary measure.

The hounds were carried in a truck in the area and released when a coyote was sighted. The speedy dogs made short work of pulling down the wily predators.

A bounty of $250 a head is paid by the Municipal District of Mountain View on all coyotes taken in this area.

Loading big units from a Montreal steel fabricating plant calls for some ingenuity. Shown here are parts of a huge oil refinery structure, destined for a new plant near Edmonton. The structure, far too vast to be transported whole, is broken down and shipped in pieces, to be welded on site. The pieces can't be mounted on a flat car vertically, mainly because of clearance problems, but have to be traced at an angle to the flat car is done by welding.

25 Cent Floor Price Placed on Beef Cattle

The Federal Government on April 9 announced a 25-cent-a-pound price-support program for beef and a spokesman said the provinces have agreed to relinquish livestock marketing responsibility.

The Federal floor, based on delivery of "good" quality steers at Toronto, is expected to stabilize beef at approximately current prices, from producer to consumer. The floor fluctuates on grades and at different points across Canada.

Experts disclosed that the Federal marketing plan envisioned "marketing direction" to prevent a possible pile-up of beef surplus in any local market and to channel "even distribution" across the country. Packers will likely be asked to cut livestock purchases to actual need if they want the Federal floor price.

Under the plan, the Government will agree to purchase surplus beef which the packers cannot sell at the fixed price. Federal officials are now searching for possible foreign outlets if a surplus develops.

Graduation Exercises At Agricultural School

Eighty-three students of the Olds School of Agriculture received their diplomas at the graduation exercises held in the school auditorium recently. A banquet was held earlier in the evening and was enjoyed by 250 guests. Principal Charles Yatch was master of ceremonies, while O. S. Longman, a former instructor, was guest speaker.

Mr. Longman pointed out that there is a tremendous turnover in the farm personnel, farmers retiring, new men taking over. "It is most important that this intake of new men be trained to meet their responsibilities, which is the chief purpose of the schools of agriculture. If we were doing the job properly we should be graduating 1,000 students annually to maintain a proper level of training for the new farmers in Alberta."

Mr. H. W. Sutherland, science instructor, assisted Mr. Yauch and Mr. Longman in presenting the following prizes to the graduates:

Highest standing in Home Economics, two-year course, Betty Storh, Morr. Two-in-one winner in the two-in-one class, Dorothy Vetter, Veteran; Apartment and Nutrition, two-year course, Evelyn Swenk, of Taber. Two-in-one, Catherine Connick, Rosebud.

CHARCOAL ABSORBS
FRESH PAINT ODOR

If you're one of the many people who can't stand the odor of new paint, try hanging a bag of charcoal in newly-painted rooms.

Especially at this time of the year—when its often too chilly to leave windows open—charcoal will help by soaking up the odor, keeping it from spreading to the rest of the house.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Missionary Church at Didsbury on April 9 at 2:30 o'clock, when Frances Mae, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Shaw exchanged the vows of marriage with Mr. William Matson of Bluffton, Alberta. Rev. Ray Shantz performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in white satin with a floor-length veil. She wore a triple strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and her flowers were a lovely bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

Miss Jean Frey, maid of honor, wore a Nile green gown, while Miss Reist, as bridesmaid, chose a pink gown. Both carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Charles and Otto.

Mr. Bill Shaw, brother of the bride, and Mr. Jack Steeves of Hoadley were ushers.

Miss Lois Neufeld sang "Because" while the register was being signed. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the Bible College.

The bride's table was beautifully decorated with lovely bouquets and centred with a three-tier wedding cake. The best man proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

Miss Grace Snyder and Mrs. W. Reist were caterers and the Misses Helen Swalm, June Sherick and Helen Archer were waitresses.

The charming couple received many lovely and useful gifts. Pictures were taken by Gordon Burgess during the ceremony and at the reception.

to find a way"*

A man who started a new business a few years ago recently wrote to pay tribute to the bank's part in helping to make it a success:

"We were fortunate in having, as our banker, a man who could combine with experience the willingness to find a way that called not for experience alone but for imagination as well."

The chartered banks are forever alert to the fresh problems, the changing needs of their customers. At all times, in all your banking problems, you can depend on your local bank to bring experience and imagination to the task of helping you to "find a way".

THE BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

ON FINDING WORDS

(Royal Bank News Letter)

Words can work wonders that benefit all mankind; they can create untold wickedness; they can be "wild and whirling," clear and shining, or flat and dull. Words are our obedient servants to be used as we will.

We, in this monthly letter, are interested principally in the use of words in business and for everyday purposes, but they have far greater significance than that.

Such uplifting words as "I am the Light of the World" have inspired countless millions with unflinching faith and hope; the calculated and inflaming words of demagogues and dictators have hurled nations and people into darkness and disaster.

Do we fully realize the importance, the strength and the beauty of the world of words lying open to us?

The time we live in is referred to as the Atomic Age, but we who live in it can rightly call it the Verbal Age. Few of us can escape the ever-increasing stream of spoken and written words pouring out of radios, books and newspapers, correspondence and public platforms. We are so immersed in words that often we feel like the drowning man going down for the third time—we feel as if we were sinking in a whirlpool.

Let us defy tradition and come up again, and take a clear, calm look at all this verbiage.

It is a language that sets us off most sharply from the high animals. Without language we should be as dogs or monkeys, and because we possess it we are human beings, capable of good and evil and outstanding intellectual achievements. Or, for its lack, we may be dimly stupid. For better and for worse, words make us the men and women we are. Words are the stones out of which we build our civilization.

Gifted with language we, the ordinary people, make language, for language is nothing if not democratic. Scholars and men of learning enrich and cultivate it, but it is from the common soil that language derives its strength, nourishment and vigor. With our need for expression of new ideas language grows, and new systems of thought and new ways of living originate new words and phrases.

As was so well said by Walt Whitman, language is not "an abstract construction of the learned, or of dictionary makers, but is something arising out of the work, needs, ties, joys, affections, tastes, of long generations of humanity, and has its basis broad and low, close to the ground."

Since we, the people, are the possessors and makers of language we must look upon ourselves as inheritors of its glorious past, custodians of its present and guardians of its

WHAT DETERMINES THE NATURE OF OUR SOILS?

Soils differ greatly in their natural state. Some are very fertile, others have to be improved before crops can be grown on them successfully, while still others are unsuitable for agricultural use due to their low fertility or due to undesirable physical conditions. These different soils are not in their present condition by some haphazard arrangement but have formed over the centuries as a result of the influence of a number of factors.

The chief factors which determine the nature of our soils are the physical and chemical nature of the mineral materials which have arisen geologically, local drainage conditions, climate, vegetation, and the activity of micro organisms. The combined action of these has produced layers in the soil which have developed can often be related to the age of the soil or the length of time the mineral materials have been exposed to weathering.

Some characteristics of the soil can be definitely related to one or more of these factors. For example, the deficiencies of some minerals and excesses of others in the soil have been inherited from the original mineral material, while the organic matter and nitrogen content can be related to climate or vegetation or to natural drainage conditions.

The natural condition of most soils is greatly changed by cultivation. Some soils are greatly improved by cultivation and crop production, while others may be lowered in fertility by the same practices. A knowledge of the natural characteristics of the soil and of the conditions which have brought them about, is of considerable assistance in determining the agricultural practices which will prove beneficial.

future. And we must use it well.

If we are truly conscious of our opportunity in this matter of language, we are better fitted to beautify and strengthen it. A writer of the last century said that language is the amber in which a thousand precious and subtle thoughts have been safely embedded and preserved, and that it has arrested ten thousand lightning flashes of genius, which, unless thus fixed and arrested, might have been as bright but would have passed and perished as quickly as the lightning.

Why do we talk or write? The purposes are many. We wish to describe objects and events, to express moods, to persuade, to please, to exhort, to explain, to make small talk, and often to lessen loneliness. And over all these lies the main reason for all our talking and writing—to transmit the ideas from our own mind to the minds of others.

NO PICK UP IN LABOUR DEMAND HAS OCCURRED

The Hon. Milton Gregg issued the following statement on the employment situation last week:

Many workers are being released from logging camps in Eastern Canada as the cutting season ends. Employment in Eastern Canada logging dropped by 7,000 a week in February and by 8,000 in the first week in March. Meanwhile, no marked pick-up in labour demand has occurred in any region except British Columbia. On the west coast the hiring by logging, mining, and construction firms is rapidly rising.

The number of people looking for work continued to rise slowly during the first half of March. At March 13, workers registered with the National Employment Service totalled 377,700, an increase of 6,800 since February 28, 1952. There were increases in every region except Ontario and the Pacific.

Nevertheless employment in heavy industry and in defence-connected industries continued to be maintained with an increasing demand for apparatus, shoe and leather products industries. No improvement occurred in primary textiles, while secondary textiles, particularly men's clothing, showed signs of revival. With relatively high inventories still held by clothing retailers and manufacturers, any increased activity will take some time to be reflected to the primary textile industry.

In the aggregate, there was not much change in the employment situation in the prairie regions. The small increase in unemployment appears to be due to western meat packing firms reducing employment because of the hoof and mouth epidemic, and to wood-cutting being almost completed in some areas. Prairie industries were generally active and farm employment was picking up. At Edmonton, the unemployment is declining as work gets underway on the extensive construction projects planned there this year. Workers registered with the N.E.S. at March 13, stood at 49,100 as compared with 48,300 at March 28, the increase having taken place in the Port Arthur areas.

POWER EXPANSION

At the beginning of 1952 Canada had electric power development with an output of over 57 billion kilowatt hours, an increase of nearly 13 per cent over the same period a year previous.

Water power developed totalled 13,340,774 horsepower, and steam electric stations 1,460,000 horsepower.

Present plans call for 2,400,000 additional horsepower to be brought into operation within the next two years.

Be Proud Of Your Business

Modern advertising is a necessity to hold and build business. Be proud of your business, of the goods you have to sell, of the services you have to offer in your particular line. Show the progressive spirit and the desire to serve by advertising. Do not hide your light under a bushel—proclaim far and wide who you are and what you have to sell and where your place of business is, for public memory is short, and advertising is a powerful aid to all types of businesses. Moreover, people as a general rule shop where they are invited.

WARBLE TIME AGAIN

In spite of the trouble and loss caused by warble flies in Alberta, only one fifth of the million and a half cattle in this province were treated for warbles last year. W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that splendid work is being done by a number of organizations, but there is still room for improvement. In some cases Agricultural service horses are providing the leadership; in others, local organizations of farmers are doing the job themselves. In the ranching areas initial power sprayers are in operation and annual spraying for warbles is considered part of the regular program.

An example of farmer organization is reported from Clive, where a very active association exists. This association was organized about five years ago with a membership of 33 farmers, each of whom contributed towards purchase of a power sprayer. Later, 50 more farmers joined the association. A man is hired to travel from farm to farm to spray cattle within an area ten miles square. His equipment consists of a tractor, small trailer, and a portable corral which holds from eight to ten cattle at a time.

The charge for spraying is fifteen cents per head for members, and twenty cents per head for non members. The operator is paid at the rate of ten cents per head to spray the cattle, and he furnishes everything except the sprayer, the portable corral and the powder. From 3,500 to 4,000 cattle a year are usually sprayed as a result of the efforts of the association.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR GRADE 12

Students requiring one or two Grade 12 subjects for university entrance may complete their high school program at the Grade 12 summer school course which will be held at the Red Deer Composite High School July 8 to August 15. Courses will be held in Grade 12 English, Social Studies, Algebra, Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry, Physics, Chemistry, Biology and French. The school is primarily for students who are confident of having 95 or more credits at the end of the year 1951-52. Students wishing to take two subjects will be considered.

The course also is open to teachers who are deficient in certain subjects. However, teachers who have not recently covered the prerequisite work of their chosen subject, should complete that work by correspondence before attempting the Grade 12 course.

Tuition fees are $10 per subject with an additional registration fee of $5. Accommodation charges for the period of the summer school are $50. All inquiries should be addressed to G.F. Bruce, Director of the Grade 12 Summer School, Department of Education, Edmonton.

TRACTORS AND FIRE

Fire insurance figures continue to show that tractors still remain something of a "bad-man" on many farms. And there is no reason why this should be if a few simple precautions are observed. Here are a few pointers to take the fire risk out of tractors:

1. Keep the tractor well serviced. The chief fire hazard are mufflers, gasoline lines and the ignition system.

2. Under no circumstances do any repair work to a tractor in a building where fire could do extensive damage. Distance is the greatest protection and the cheapest. A minimum distance is 80 feet from any main building. Flaming gasoline spreads rapidly and much material around a farm is often inflammable.

3. Combustible material on the tractor or nearby can be a serious fire risk. Chaff can accumulate on the engine, pile up on the muffler or get sufficiently in contact with heated parts to cause a flash fire. In starting the engine it may backfire and ignite inflammable material nearby.

4. Drive the tractor around the farm with the same care and attention given to driving a car on a crowded road.

To sum up the experts' advice: use good judgement at all times and the farm tractor will no longer be a possible fire hazard.

Roads in most parts of the district are drying rapidly, but frost
"hills" are now appearing on virtually every road in the country, including the main highway, and motorists have had to watch where they were driving to avoid getting stuck. The two main roads out of Didsbury to the highway were almost impassable last week end and the first of this week. At the hospital corner the road has been too cut up to allow traffic through, and on the south road cars and trucks were getting through, or were being pulled through. Even the streets in town are showing "hills" this week and it is hoped that the warmer weather will soon put roads and streets back to normal—with the help of the grader, of course.
